

Purpose

The North Dakota Council of State Employees was established by the Governor's Office in 1991. State agencies, boards and commissions are assigned to various COSE sub-groups. Each state agency has one person as a representative to the appropriate sub-group of the council. The COSE Board of Directors consists of leaders representing the sub-groups.

COSE MISSION

The mission of the Council of State Employees (COSE) is to enhance the morale and public image of state employees through the recognition of their personal, civic, and work contributions.

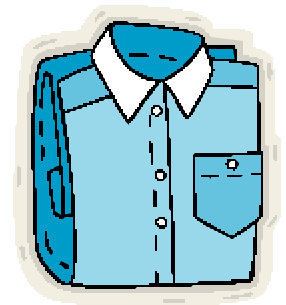

Activities

In addition to sponsoring the Governor's Award for Excellence in Public Service, the Council plans special events for state employees during State Employees Recognition Week (SERW). The Council publishes a newsletter which not only contains articles about council activities, but also features interesting articles about state agencies and state employees. The Council also has a website that features information about the COSE groups around the state.

Community Service

The Council also serves the community. Proceeds from fundraisers and food drives are shared with people in need at state agencies and in the larger community. State employees rally together to make these efforts successful. Community Services efforts enhance the image of state employees.

Merchandise Sales

Sweatshirts, T-shirts, coats, and hats are sold to promote pride among state employees. These are just some of the ways that the Council strives to promote the morale and productivity of state employees. To view these items or to order merchandise please refer to our website listed below.
